ABSTRACT

A system includes a portal connected to user interface (UI) components, application logic linking the UI components to a repository layer and connectivity layer through an object

5   access layer, and source systems linked to the repository layer and the connectivity layer.

20764897.doc